

Competition among television stations is the best way to ensure unbiased reporting of events is maintained. If this FCC rule changes is allowed, the possibility of a monopoly within local or national areas of viewership is increased. This would be detrimental to everyone.